

2024 Law Student Pro Bono Award

This award honors the dedication and motivation of a law student or recent graduate who has significantly enhanced the delivery of quality legal services to poor Texans and underserved communities.

Nomination Criteria

Created by the Texas Access to Justice Commission, the Law Student Pro Bono Award is open to all law students currently enrolled at or graduating from an accredited Texas law school or graduates who graduated from an accredited Texas law school within the last six months. The award recipient will receive a $2,000 stipend and be recognized at the New Lawyer Induction Ceremony in November.

Eligible law students or recent graduates may be nominated by a law school dean, clinic professor, legal services supervisor, or they may nominate themselves by submitting a nomination form to the Texas Access to Justice Commission. Each school may have multiple nominees. Completed nomination forms may be emailed to atjmail@texasbar.com, or mailed to: P. O. Box 12487, Austin, Texas 78711-2487.

Nominations must be received by 5pm, Monday, September 9, 2024

Additional materials, such as letters of recommendation or news articles, may be included with a nomination. Please limit each nomination to six pages total, including supporting materials.

The Nomination Form must contain the following information:

1. Nominee information: Name, address, phone number and email address of the nominee, law school and date of graduation or projected date of graduation;
2. Nominating individual's information: Name, position title, organization, address, phone number and email address of the nominating individual; and
3. Synopsis: A one-page summary describing why the nominee should receive the Law Student Pro Bono Award.

The one-page synopsis should clearly identify the services and accomplishments of the nominee in the area of pro bono legal services that benefit low-income Texans as well as the nominee's qualifications for this award. The award recipient will be a student or recent graduate whose pro bono work has made a significant impact on the community and reflects the following characteristics:

- A passion for advocating for underserved populations, demonstrated by work for that population during law school or intent to practice law on behalf of that population after graduation;
- Substantial performance of legal pro bono service (as opposed to general public service); and
- Involvement in public service-oriented law student groups.

The selection committee will review all submitted materials and may consider clinical coursework or summer activities in evaluating nominees to determine the award recipient.

Please return completed form to the Texas Access to Justice Commission.
